Want Ads Lead Many
News Features In Interest To Readers

A newspaper survey conducted by Paddock publications at the Arlington Heights festival revealed many things of interest to readers and especially to the publishers of those newspapers. The result of that survey will be reflected in changes that may be made in the various departments of the papers.

In the questionnaire local news, as could be expected, creates the greatest interest. It was divided into front page, local and women's features. Women answering the questionnaire were strong for women features, including food ads.

The Want Ad. section is next in interest. Many people when questioned stated that they do not read the want ads, because they have something to sell or because they are in the market for goods, but because it is interesting to find out what their neighbors are selling.

One woman said, "blind ads, make me furious; it is like reading a story in a magazine only to find at the end, 'to be continued.'"

"Thirty Years Ago" is close in popularity to the Want Ads. Young people who were not born thirty years ago, said that they get a big kick out of reading about the goings on of their elders, especially when the elders are their parents.

The majority of people contacted at the festival booth of this paper were women. As a result the sport page popularity was not very pronounced. However, while 75% of those contacted were women, only 17% of them evidenced an interest in the church news. Twenty per cent read the theatre page.

Others than farmers read the farmer's page. The percentage of farmers reached by the questionnaire, was not high, but there were 133 people who indicated that the farmer's page was one of their favorites.

Those in charge of the survey were surprised to discover that many men as well as women read the paper "from cover to cover." Voluntary expressions of approval of the paper's make up and contents were frequent. "I like all of the paper," was repeated time and again when a visitor was asked which department appealed to him the most.

In crediting the percentages, a vote is given for each preference marked. Some indicated only one preference, others may have indicated several. The results were:

Woman's page and	52%
Food Ads.	50%
Want Ads.	25%
"Thirty Years Ago"	23%
Theatre News	20%
Sport Page	18%
Church News	17%

Fire Victims Say "Thank You"

Words can not express our appreciation for the assistance accorded us in the fire that destroyed our home early Sunday morning nor for the ready response given us by kind neighbors and friends in supplying temporary abode and furnishings. To all of these, including the fire department of Arlington Heights, Palatine and Mt. Prospect, we say "thank you."

Christ Fritz and Family.

Festival Is Over -- What a Week!

Arlington Heights Festival is past history, but by almost universal opinion, it was one of the best stunts ever attempted by the business interests of Arlington Heights. Strangers as well as home people unhesitatingly expressed their approval of the show. Regardless of direct benefits that exhibitors may have attained all of them considered the event a community advertising project the value of which will be many times its cost.

The total attendance, exclusive of children, was in excess of 7,000. Paid admissions passed the 6,000 mark.

A newspaper survey conducted by this paper at the festival booth gave an idea as to the communities represented among the visitors. A total of 800 registered at the festival booth. Twenty-eight per cent were visitors from other communities. Palatine led with 7%; Mt. Prospect followed with 6%; Barrington and Des Plaines 4% each; Bensenville 2%. Other communities that were well represented were Prairie View territory and Chicago.

There seemed to be a never ending supply of free prizes and on the final evening over an hour was needed to award them all, including the free prizes offered by the various exhibitors.

The major prizes were awarded as follows:

Martha Krueger, S. State Road—$200 cash.

Geraldine Annen, 903 N. Dunton—$100 cash.

Christ Heckmiller, 104 Pine—Bicycle prize.

George Schneberger, 514 E. Euclid—Philco radio.

Mrs. R. Lippold, 28 N. Belmont—electric roaster.

Thelma Hoffman, Kenosha, Wis.—hospitality toastmaster.

Good Guessers Win Winter Fuel

Three tons of coal were delivered this week to two Arlington Heights homes, whose occupants were good guessers in the contest conducted by Tibbitts-Cameron Lumber Co.

Lois Koenig, 1103 West Euclid estimated that there were 4509 pieces of coal in the glass jar that stood in the booth of that firm. That was a very close guess as there were exactly 4,521 pieces. Orville Bolte, 123 S. Mitchell, was second with a guess of 4,501.

Win Free Permanents

Mrs. J. W. Miller, Mt. Prospect, won a $5.00 free permanent in the hair pin guessing contest conducted by Watson Beauty Shop. Mrs. Wm. Weisenborn, Chicago, won the 2nd prize. The third prize went to Mrs. Geo. H. Hughes.

Mrs. Theo. Studman won the chest of silver offered by Paddock Publications.

Other Prizes

Wm. Neuman was the winner of the set of dishes given by the Red Wings.

Mrs. Lawrence Niemeyer, Chestnut and Sigwalt, took home the set silverware given by Sieburg Drug Store.

Prizes offered by Geo. Schimming went to Herman Piepenbrink, Mrs. Edith Atkinson, Edwin Wilke and Floyd Dobbins, all of Arlington Heights.

Virgil Horath Shell Service has a five gallon can of motor oil awaiting L. T. Mitchell, 9 East Hawthorne.

Buick Wins Over Ford In Tie Vote

Mayor Flentje Casts Deciding Ballot In Police Car Purchase

Arlington Heights new police car will again be a Buick. Mayor Flentje cast the deciding vote Monday evening when the aldermen stood three to three on the motion of Alderman Griffith that a Buick Special be purchased fully equipped for $710, including the old car. The motion was seconded by alderman Krause. Aldermen Schneberger, Griffith and Krause voted aye. Aldermen Adam, Goodie, and Studman voted "no." Preceding the motion of Griffith, Alderman Schneberger reported to the board that the police committee had met and recommended to the board that a Buick Special be purchased. Alderman Goedke stated that in his opinion a Ford would answer all purposes, would save money and be much more economical in operation.

The board authorized the set-up of two new WPA projects which include a zone map in colors of Arlington Heights, which will be a part of a county-wide atlas. The zone status of every lot within the village will be shown and also what type of building is on it today.

The second WPA project authorized is the compilation of data regarding all service and buffalo boxes of the water and sewer systems of Arlington Heights.

The first National Bank of Palatine through the receiver is paying out a final dividend this week of 20.3%.

This makes a total payment of nearly 71% which this bank has paid out.

Any bank which has been in the hands of a receiver for seven years and can pay out after that experience over 70%, should never have been closed.

The first examiner who took over the bank following its closing made the statement "that this bank should never have had to close."

A little help at the critical period in many banks would have carried them through and saved the people's money.

If a portion of the money thrown away by the government on WPA and IWA projects had been used to tide over the banks that needed help untold suffering would have been averted and millions of the people's money would have been saved.

This is the first complete liquidation of any bank in receivership in the northwest towns.

Olympic Movies
At Special Meeting
Of M. E. Men's Club

Official movies of the 1936 Olympic games will be shown at a special meeting of the Arlington Heights Methodist Men's club on Thursday, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Ralph Cannon, who until recently was engaged in publicity work for the American Olympic committee, will present the pictures.

As guest speaker at the first meeting of the Men's club last week, Mr. Cannon's most cordially received. His offer to show the films was eagerly accepted.

The office of the Olympic committee is virtually closed because of the effect of the war upon the 1940 games. The films will not be available much longer. Consequently they will be shown on this special date rather than on one of the regular meeting nights.

REV. R. C. SCHELLHASE, who was reappointed pastor of Arlington Heights Methodist church at the annual session of the Rock River Conference last week.

United Methodist Churches Meet For First Time

The Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church met for the first time last week in historical old Saint James Church, forty-seventh and Ellis aves., Chicago. This was not only the first meeting of the Rock River Methodist conference, but also the one hundredth meeting of the Rock River Methodist Episcopal conference. This was indeed a significant conference in that it marked the end of the Methodist Episcopal conference and the beginning of the new conference, the Rock River Methodist conference.

Of course the Methodist Episcopal church ceased to be when the Unifying conference of the three great churches: The Methodist Episcopal, The Methodist Episcopal South, and the Methodist Protestant voted to accept the plan for union, and voted to name the new church of some nine million members and twenty million constituents the Methodist Church.

This great conference was held in Kansas City, Missouri in May of this year.

Each annual conference since unification has been faced with the problem of perfecting the union within its own boundaries. In many conferences the three churches existed side by side in such a way that unification caused difficult problems to arise relative to bringing local congregations together. The Rock River Conference was not forced to face many such problems.

Only three churches of the former Methodist Protestant Church lay within the boundaries of the new Rock River Methodist Conference, which comprises the northern fourth of the state of Illinois. There were problems, however, arising out of the new situation that called for careful attention. Legal documents had to be prepared relative to the name of the new conference and to the proper transfer of property titles. These documents were prepared by able Chicago attorneys and accepted by the conference.

Chicago is the seat of several important church-wide Commissions and Boards of the new church and it is possible that others may be located in Chicago when the process of unification has been consummated.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE SCHICK TEST

The Schick test is a simple and harmless skin test that shows in forty-eight hours whether or not a person is immune to diphtheria.

Children who have had toxoid should be Schicked about six months after the treatment to make certain that they are safe from diphtheria.

Youngsters of ten or more who have not been immunized should be Schicked before the school year opens to determine whether (as occasionally happens) a natural immunity to diphtheria has developed.

Schick test will be given without charge by local doctors to children in the local schools during October at the request of parents.

The testing program is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Health Committee, the Board of Health and the local school boards. Ask your family doctor or Mrs. Adele Pino, the Health Center nurse about the test.

Five Jump From Window When Home Burns

Family of Nine
Flee Home In Early Morning Fire

The nine members of the family of Christ Fritz, Central road, Arlington Heights, had no time to save personal belongings early Sunday morning, when, awakened by the screams of Mrs. Fritz, they found impossible, escape by stairway.

Molly Fritz, an adult daughter, awoke about five o'clock and smelled smoke. Wondering why her mother should start preparation of breakfast so early on a Sunday morning, she called downstairs to her mother, who opening her bedroom door found that part of the house was a sheet of flames.

Her screams awoke the rest of the family. One son, William, who owing to a tooth ache had slept on a couch downstairs, rushed out of the house running in his bare feet to the adjoining Klehm home to call the Arlington Heights fire department.

Mr. Fritz was only able to grab a box containing private papers. Mrs. Fritz was able to get down the stairs. The others, three daughters and three sons, leaped to the ground from second story windows. Molly used two sheets tied to bed post to reach the ground. The others, in their hurry to reach safety, gave no thought of possible bodily injury. They left their room attired only in night clothes. Blisters were on some of their feet.

Fire Chief Volz had the pumper placed near a well from which sufficient water was obtained to prevent a spread of the fire. Fearing that the water supply would become exhausted Mr. Volz asked aid of Mt. Prospect and Palatine rural equipment, who promptly responded.

Loss was confined to the residence. All farm buildings were a distance from the house and were saved, including all tools and livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. Gieseke, owner of the farm occupied by the Fritz family, provided temporary quarters for their renters until other quarters could be found. One daughter, Wilma, will remain temporarily with the Giesekes. She is attending the public school. Two sons are staying on the premises caring for the livestock, etc. Four members of the family, two of whom are attending school, are at the home of Herman J. Moehling and the others are at the Geo. Koelner home.

The farm occupied by the Fritz family is known among old timers as the Albert Engeling farm.

Echo of Present War Heard In Arlington

An echo of war activities in Europe reached Arlington Heights last week and is another example of how small the world really is. Two days before the outbreak of hostilities, Arlington Chevrolet sold a new car to a Presbyterian minister in a southern Illinois town. The financing was handled in Arlington Heights. A few days ago the car was returned by the purchaser because Germany and England were at war. The purchaser's brother who was returning to America, lost his life on the Athenia, sunk by a submarine. Owing to added family financial burdens due to that death of the sole support of aged parents, the pastor felt compelled to give up the car.

Dr. Pfotenhauer
Dies; Leader Of
Missouri Synod

Was Active In
Lutheran Expansion
In Middle West

The Rev. Dr. Frederick Pfotenhauer, 80 years old, honorary president of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod, died Monday in Englewood hospital following an operation. Funeral services were held from Holy Cross Lutheran church, 3116 S. Racine ave., Chicago, at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Burial was in Bethania Lutheran cemetery.

Dr. Pfotenhauer was born April 22, 1859 at Altenfeld, Hanover, Germany and came to the United States in 1875 from Celle, Germany. He was educated for the Lutheran ministry at Concordia college, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis. Following his graduation in 1880 from the seminary he became a traveling missionary in Minnesota, the Dakotas, and Montana.

Elected by synod in 1901.

He was elected president of the Dakota-Montana division of the synod in 1891, serving until 1903. He was vice president of the Missouri Synod, 1908-1911 when he became president of the synod, with offices in Chicago. He retired in 1935.

Dr. Pfotenhauer had apparently recovered from a serious operation of last fall. A second operation last week caused his death.

He was not only a great executive, but he held the confidence and admiration of the members of the Lutheran churches.

A brother, Adolph Pfotenhauer, late pastor at Addison, was a pastor of Palatine church many years ago.

During his long presidency, the Missouri synod grew into an international body and developed a vigorous expansion program which made it a leader among Lutheran groups of America.

Three Sons Are Pastors

For several years Dr. Pfotenhauer had been associate pastor of Holy Cross church with his son, the Rev. Martin Pfotenhauer. Two other sons are Lutheran ministers, and three daughters married Lutheran pastors. These are the Rev. Carl Pfotenhauer, Schaumburg, and the Rev. Fred Pfotenhauer, Taylor Ridge. Daughters are the wives of the Rev. H. T. Friedrich, Ferguson, Minn., the Rev. Fred Hertwig, Detroit, and the Rev. Prof. Victor Bartling, Concordia college, Milwaukee. A fourth daughter lived with Dr. Pfotenhauer at 449 West 61st place.

Mrs. Pfotenhauer, the former Helen Brauer of Crete, died eight months ago.

Development In
Gieseke Properties

F. W. Gieseke, owner of the property on which the Laudermilk organization is directing its development and M. T. Bjorak, Inc., building contractors, stated Wednesday that the death of Mr. Laudermilk would not hinder the further development of that property.

There are a number of contracts in the process of completion and the owner and contracting firm are prepared to complete them.

Mr. Laudermilk had a varied career as a realtor. During the heyday of 1928 he was recognized as one of the leading operators in the high class property in the northwest Chicago area. It was he who put Stonegate, and later Scarsdale, on the map. His enthusiasm and pep enabled him to keep his feet on the ground even during the depression and in the opinion of the realty world, he was making a comeback when death overtook him.

O. G. Barrett Is Very Much Alive

In some manner erroneous reports were circulated about Arlington Heights Tuesday afternoon that O. G. Barrett had met with an auto accident near Valparaiso, Ind. It was not a half hour later that the reports of his death were in circulation.

The reports had received such credence that when Mr. Barrett walked downtown Thursday morning, he met surprised glances from his friends who did not seem to know whether the person before them was O. G. himself or only a ghost.

Take it from the Herald, Mr. Barrett, is very much alive.

THANKS TO FIREMEN:

I wish to express my appreciation to the Arlington Heights, Palatine and Mt. Prospect Fire Departments for the services rendered at the fire on my farm early Sunday morning. Their prompt response saved the remaining buildings for which I am very grateful.

F. W. GIESEKE.

Palatine Lions To Be Guests of Arlington Heights Club

Tuesday, October 17, at 6:30 p. m., the Arlington Heights Lions Club will be host to the Palatine Lions.

An attractive program has been planned for the occasion by Lion Hugo L. Hoffmann. A committee on Civic Improvement and Community Betterment. The guest speaker will be Mr. Robert Kingery, general manager of Chicago Regional Plan Association, Chairman of Illinois State Planning Commission, and Director of Illinois State Department of Public Works.

Mr. Kingery is also connected with the county planning project which is now under consideration. President Walter Karstens expects a record attendance at this meeting.

Harold Willson Is Host To Realty Men

Harold Willson made good his promise to fellow realty men Monday noon when he invited the boys as his guests to partake of a fish dinner at the Arlington cafe. Willson brought the fish home with him from Cy Young's camp in the Lake of the Woods in Canada.

Accompanying Mr. Willson on his fishing trip were Arthur Franzen, cashier of Arlington Heights National Bank, Dr. Schimmel, prominent Arlington Heights physician, and Dr. Liefohn of Chicago.

Dr. Allison of Chicago and Roy Harris, local New York Life Insurance representative, accompanied the above group as far north as Lake Owen, Wisconsin, where they did their fishing with fair luck.

The Herald editor can not conscientiously publish any story about the fishing luck of Harold and his companions because he has not seen any of the fish that his friend, Willson, promised just before he left for the north.

Seeing is believing folks and Harold does catch fish sometimes as is evidenced by the story and picture that appeared in this paper a few weeks ago.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Fidelity" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, October 1.
The Golden Text was, "There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches" (Proverbs 11:17).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit" (Ecclesiastes 1:14).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Error of thought is reflected in error of action. The continual contemplation of existence as material and corporeal—as beginning and ending, and with birth, decay, and dissolution as its component stages—hides the true and spiritual Life, and causes our standard to trail in the dust" (p. 570).

Mueller and herself lived in the city. As the years pass the ties of friendship strengthen and they rejoice in the "tie that binds" them together.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilke and family had a happy surprise Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weidner and children, Arthur, Florence, Marie and Richard, with Miss Henriette Kelsey and Mr. Herbert Bachman of La Porte, Ind. came to visit their relatives the Frieses, progressing from breakfast with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Friesse, dinner with the Wm. Wilke's and Mrs. Emma Friesse and supper with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Friesse. Sunday afternoon the reunion time, there were terrors of Friesse kinship met together. Miss Laura McElhose and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Friesse of Des Plaines were among the guests. The Indiana cousins had a busy, happy time renewing acquaintances, seeing the expansion and improvements in Arlington Heights. It was a happy week-end for everyone, and will long be remembered by the Friesse families.

Last Friday, Mrs. Plumley drove to Cedar Lake, Ind., accompanied by Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. C. Peters, Mrs. C. Franzin and Mrs. H. Gruber. They enjoyed a last of summer picnic in the cottage, near the lake and the surrounding autumn landscape. They played Chinese Checkers and the losers were delegated to wash the dishes. Everyone had a jolly time.

Christian Endeavor meeting last Sunday evening was interesting and well attended. Edward Hoffman was ill and Donald Peeters had to carry on without his partner. Several questions from "question box" added to an interesting talk on the subject. Misses Loraine Foley and Hazel Sauer were present with their Sunday school classes of girls. A fine example for others to observe and appreciate by all the society. Sunday, Oct. 15, is missionary meeting and a fine program is being prepared. Funds collected will be given to practical mission work. You are invited to attend and encourage the young people who are striving to uphold the banner of Christ. Visitors are welcome at all meetings. When older friends show interest, the members are encouraged. Oct. 15, 6:30 o'clock is the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wodack and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Jacobson from the city came out Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Dieball, S. Dunton Ave. They had recently learned of Mr. Dieball's illness and called to see how he is improving toward better health.

Lutheran Men Hold Dinner Meeting Friday

A dinner prepared and served by men will feature the meeting of the Lutheran Laymen League, Friday, October 20, 7 p. m. The "famous" chefs, who will demonstrate their culinary ability are Wm. J. Mueller, Gustav Heidorn, Raymond Dieball, Henry Metz, Wm. Keiser, Geo. Schimming, Ed. Sander, George Held and Wm. Luetschwager. The national portion of the program will be provided by Attorney A. Wild, who will speak on European affairs. The speaker understands European complexities from personal observation and study. He promises to take his audience behind the scenes and show them what is really happening. This will prove a timely presentation of a subject which is being discussed by everyone. All members and their friends are invited to spend a profitable evening with St. Peter's Lutheran Laymen League.

Epilepsy Yields To Medical Science

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Pharmacy

Epilepsy is a malady with a two thousand year old history. For at least that span of time medical science has been attempting to discover the cause and cure of this disorder.

The victory is close at hand. In recent years doctors have been able to abate the force and effects of epileptic attacks and just recently have neared the cure they have been seeking through many centuries.

If your child is epileptic, take courage. Consult a doctor, put the case in his hands. Not only is relief available, but permanent cure is possible. All medication must be of the best. Patronize a good druggist.

A Phenomenon

I was very much amused at the item in the Herald last week regarding the "secret" of the "LBA," and I consider this the "psychological moment" to inform the LBA that at least the writer has known, all these years, the significance of those letters. So the "mystery" was not so profound as most of those girls have imagined.

Those letters stand for three Spanish words which were given in the "Marion Harland Corner" of the Chicago Daily News 25 years ago, and I will give those "Amigas" their translation, upon request, which I understand only the founders were supposed to have deciphered.

I discussed their meaning with one of the club's founders—she and her sister now long deceased LBA members—at our sewing circle at the time the "Las Buenas Amigas," pronounced Las Boo-a-nass A-mee-gas, was organized; and though I would not discredit their ability to keep a secret, nor would I temper the pleasure which those girls, so blissfully oblivious, were deriving from their "illusion" for 25 years, I would imply that, strange as it may seem, secrets are extremely rare.

Someone else usually knows. Verily, "He who runs may read"—and learn. And many others may have read. Moral: Result is frequently contrary to purpose.

Signed I. B. S.

Cub Scouts Pack 232 Accept 16 New Members

The Arlington Heights Cub Scout Pack 232, one of the live organizations of Arlington Heights started off its new year taking sixteen new members into camp last Friday night at the North Side school.

Forty-six of last year's scouts members are re-registered for this year's activities. That induction into the pack was something new for our Arlington Heights lads, it being a rather formal Bobcat initiation — and certainly very impressive.

The boys again this year are planning to raise funds for the pack and for the purchase of their own equipment by garnering in the waste paper that the many households are glad to offer not only to help the pack but to get rid of it.

May we ask that you help your boy, or your neighbors boy, thereby helping the Arlington Heights pack by calling Mr. Schapanski, tel. 317-R, his assistant, or any of the Den Dads, or in fact any of the Cub members, it will be greatly appreciated.

—O. G. Barrett.

October 4, 1939
Congress of U. S.
In Care of the President
White House, Washington, D. C.
Gentlemen:

As each nation crawled into its hole and waited to be grabbed, dictators found it an easy job to conquer this world, except when all Christendom united at the "Battle of Tours" and hurled the Moslems back. Now, all decent nations should stick their chins out and unite to hurl to oblivion the direct threat to civilization that the world has ever known.

You partisan-dumb, greedy presiding politicians in Congress do not seem to have a sane understanding. I believe that I would rather trust web-footed beach combers. Do you want this world crushed by another Genghis Khan?

If we do not want to draft U. S. boys to cross the ocean to fight, then send all volunteers and our ships to do our part to help the two nations that are now in the field in defense of Humanity and crush Hitlerism forever. Do a quick job and have less destruction of lives and property.

If the totalitarian idea prevails and liberty as we know it, that has cost a thousand years of struggle to gain, is crushed out, it will never rise again, for dictators with terrible weapons and instant communication to all parts of the world will be able to crush all opposition and rebellion in their incipency.

Yours sincerely,
Calvin Mitchell

Foley's Announce New Beauty Skin Treatment

Women readers of the magazine Vogue in Arlington Heights probably received a thrill in a recent issue at the news of a new scientific beauty skin treatment, the Inspire Deepskin Electro-Mask, which has since proven highly successful in the exclusive beauty salons in the larger cities.

This week the Foley Beauty Shoppe brings this new method to Arlington Heights at an exceptionally low price. Mr. Foley who had been making a study of this new treatment visited the demonstrations last week at the Chicago beauty show and was greatly impressed with the results achieved. So much so that he has immediately installed equipment to bring it to his patrons in Arlington Heights.

Remarkable is the fact that the treatment which requires only a few minutes to perform, is immediate in the restoration of new vitality and color to the skin.

The P.T.A. membership drive closed last Friday afternoon with a total membership of 253, which is an increase over the membership of last year. The drive was conducted through the schools, with a prize for the room in each school receiving the highest percentage of membership. The awards were won by Miss Doris Clark's first grade of the North school, with a 46% membership, and by Miss Grothe's first grade on the South side, with a percentage of 47% joining the association.

Any parent who did not join last week still has the privilege of doing so at any time, either through the school children or at a meeting of the association. Annual dues are 50c per parent for the year.

Mexican Art Displayed At Welfare Meeting

Mrs. Robert Palmer, chairman of Indian Welfare for the local Woman's Club, Mrs. B. A. Noyes, first vice president of the 7th district, and Mrs. Sachs attended a lecture and tea on Mexican Art at the home of Mrs. Walters on the grounds of the Midlothian Country club last Friday afternoon. About 60 members and chairmen of the Northern area were guests at the tea, which was given by Mrs. Albrecht, who is state chairman of Indian Welfare and Mrs. Cramer who is seventh district chairman.

Mrs. Walters, who has spent several years in Mexico, working among the Aztec Indians in the mountain villages, gave a most interesting talk, telling of the history of Mexico, and its people, its arts and crafts of the past and present.

Mrs. Walters has one of the finest exhibits of Mexican art and crafts, to be seen anywhere, which she most graciously displayed for the guests. A hand carved bed room set of cedar is perhaps the most valued of her Mexican display. She also has many lacquered trays, done with the finger tip lacquering, for which the people of Mexico are famous, her exhibit also contains Mexican pottery, hand blown glass vases, Mexican antiques, hand carved pictures, and many other interesting articles.

The members of the Arlington Heights club who attended, found the afternoon most interesting.

Is Your Child HANDICAPPED?

Of every ten children classified at school as backward, five are found to have defective vision. Poor grades, a dislike of school, headaches, a cross disposition, all are the direct result of deficiencies of eyesight. An unfortunate thing about defective vision is that it is often impossible to detect without a thorough examination. A fortunate thing is that almost every case can be easily corrected with a proper fitting of glasses. Your child deserves perfect vision. Have his, or her, eyes examined before school starts.

It Happened Here

Now we hear the clan call of the robins, making ready to migrate; in the bare tree tops and on the wires, the robin has a militant, top-sergeant look as he rounds up the laggards with his warning notes; only then does he manifest some of his characteristic energy; when he sits and suns himself among the fallen leaves of the yard, he is more a contemplative Buddha and might even be the re-incarnation of a russet leaf. The vireos have a pretty custom of visiting the bath in the "duskany dark" when no other applicants appear; they tip-tilt over the fence with a flash of white—maybe towels?—and enjoy the water free from the bathing mob. "My dear, this is the only chance for privacy. I despise mixed bathing parties!" A gusty breeze at sunrise blows a flock of juncos across the lawn, so mixed with whirling leaves as to be practically indistinguishable when they settle in the rattle-seeded weeds and then, like a pouncing kitten, the breeze sends them scurrying again; the little gray squirrel makes a neat box of himself around the bath and then drinks long and avidly. "A stirrup cup and good hunting!" At noon, the hermit thrush, shyest of wood creatures, steals to the bath and with the golden bough above her, splashes and splashes until the whitethroat flies up. The evening is chilly and white and above the roofs and the tree tops the hunter's moon comes cycling, her high, old-fashioned silver wheel followed by the low rear wheel where Jupiter spins tirelessly; aloofly she holds her way on the age-old course to the western baths, and all the trees crowd forward lifting their twinkling leaves for autographing.

Dr. F. E. Schon Opens Office In Arlington Heights

Dr. Fred E. Schon, former president of the staff of Lake View hospital in Chicago, and a practicing physician and surgeon in Chicago for a number of years, opened his office in Arlington Heights this week at 10 N. Dunton Ave. Mrs. Schon and their son, Fred Jr., will join him here the latter part of the month.

Dr. Schon was chief resident physician of the Garfield Park hospital in Chicago from 1921 to 1923. Then he and the late Dr. G. Adolph Goetz operated a skin clinic. Dr. Schon left the skin clinic to join the Lake View hospital staff, where he eventually became chief of the staff.

In addition to this work, and his practice as physician and surgeon, for the last three years, Dr. Schon has served as medical adviser for Seborace Laboratories, Inc., manufacturers of pharmaceutical and cosmetic supplies in Chicago. He will continue this work while he is a resident of Arlington Heights and will continue to have office hours at 1005 Belmont Ave., Chicago, a few hours a week.

During the week-end Dr. Schon moved his office equipment to the 10 N. Dunton Ave. address, and on Sunday Chicago friends dropped out to give him a "house warming" in his new quarters.

Benefit Dance To Aid Purchase of Extra Equipment in Dist. 23

Increasing enrollment in District 23, known as Wheeling Center, is already taxing the facilities of the school house that was erected last year. School closed last June with 34 pupils. It opened in September with an enrollment of 45, which this week passed the fifty mark. Mr. Bollman, assistant superintendent of schools, notified the board that five additional seats should be installed in each of the two rooms.

It is not the extra enrollment alone that makes necessary the benefit dance. There are a lot of extras needed and the board of directors want to install some of them without using tax money.

If the dance is a success, others will follow.

Cardinals Will Tackle Unbeaten Libertyville Wildcats, Saturday

Mac Says

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

There was only one real upset in last week's grid scores. That was Northbrook's 18-0 win over Barrington. We found that Northbrook had been very much under rated for Mackey's eleven has made wonderful progress since the game first was started at Northbrook a year ago. Arlington's tie at Lake Forest was not expected but we did predict a close score. Warren's fine showing in holding Libertyville to a 12-7 score seems to this writer to be a moral victory for this year's squad of Blue Devils.

We Missed One

Our only miss of the week was the Barrington game. This week we believe the picks are easier in the Northeast loop. Here are the week's selections:

1. Northbrook to defeat Libertyville in a close game by one touchdown.
2. Lake Forest to beat Warren by two touchdowns.
3. Crystal Lake rates a 20 point edge over Woodstock.
4. Niles has a touchdown edge on Leyden.
5. Grant and Barrington a toss up but we take Grant.
6. McHenry has a slight edge over Northbrook but could go the other way.

Was It The Heat?

We wonder if the extreme heat had anything to do with the showing of the Arlington and Libertyville teams last Saturday. Both teams were at least one touchdown short of expectations. It was really a day for the big fellows in the Cardinal and Wildcat lines to show plenty of poundage. Next Saturday we will see whether it will be Cards or Cats to remain in the top position. We hope the game will not be a repetition of last year's tie.

To Meet Tougher Opponents

The schedule from now on will not be so kind to Bergstrom's team as the first two victories were scored over second division clubs. If they can beat or tie the Arlington we will reverse our judgment of their chances. Leyden is another team that has not met top flight competition. We will not be surprised if Leyden's win record at the end of the season is the same as it is today. Before the season started it was our opinion that there would not be an unbeaten team in the league this year. Arlington is the only team we think can upset that prediction.

Very Few Seniors

Looking over the Northbrook and Barrington lineups Saturday we could not get very optimistic about the chances of teams taking up football for the first time next year who will have to play those teams. Only three seniors were in the Northbrook lineup and four on the Barrington team. Northbrook completed two passes over the Barrington goal line Saturday which did not count. In both cases the receiver was just a step beyond the end zone boundary. One was on a try for extra point.

One Less Brown at Libertyville

Brown at right half for Northbrook is a Libertyville transfer. He looked good Saturday. Guess Bergstrom had plenty of Browns anyway with two regulars in his backfield. By the way Paul Brown is proving to be one of the best backs in the league as we suggested early in the season.

Never Lost A Homecoming Game

Grant has never lost a homecoming game in the history of the school. Last year the only Grant victory of the season was over Northbrook on the celebration day. Saturday the Bulldogs will try to keep the record intact by whipping the Barrington Bronchos.

Coach Werhan of Grant says that McHenry has a guard who is the best he has seen in these parts. Forgot his name but said he did not have a kid who could even half way stop the hard charging McHenry boy who was in the Grant backfield most of the afternoon.

Bisons Practice Football

Bensenville has 28 boys out daily for six man football according to reports and Coach John Kirby will soon announce the first game. We would think that Bensenville is pretty well fixed for football if they have that many boys out and all outfitted.

Call Themselves "Angels"

The new school at Zion has adopted the name "Angels" for its athletic teams. Palatine will be one of the first schools to meet the Angels in their new gymnasium as the Pirates play there December 9.

An Early Warning

Coaches of football in the Northeast loop have enough headaches and worries these days without

Lake Forest Holds Cards To A Tie, 6-6

Halt 65 Yard Drive To Goal Line In Last Minutes Of Play

A courageous Lake Forest eleven fought an overconfident Arlington team off its feet last Saturday afternoon and gained a well earned six to six tie out of the encounter. The game surpassed even the hard fought Crystal Lake-Arlington contest of the previous week. Lake Forest, knowing that their sole chance to win was by out battling their heavier opponents proceeded to do just that.

Apparently Arlington's touchdown, coming at the end of the first quarter, was acquired too easily for after displaying a lot of pep in the first quarter they proceeded to ease up. They threw away a couple of chances to score later in the second quarter.

After see-sawing back and forth a bad pass from center, causing a fumble, and recovered by Lake Forest, set up the Lake Forest touchdown which came at the start of the fourth quarter. Stung by the Forest's score tying the game, the Cardinals dug in and exhibited their best drive of the game. The Cards smashed their way from their own thirty-five yard line to the Lake Forest one yard line where a courageous last minute stand stopped them. There was just time left for Lake Forest to boot the ball out but not enough for a single play by Arlington remaining.

Arlington's best gains were off tackle. Smashes by Koenig and Hull. However, their touchdown was acquired by a short pass, Bulbitz to Henken with a lateral to Koenig good for 32 yards.

Lake Forest mixed up a flock of short passes good for only a yard or so with a few fairly substantial off tackle gains for their score. Casanova plunged three yards for the final tally.

The only honor Arlington retained from the game was to uphold her record of never having been beaten by a Lake Forest eleven. This game marked the second tie, but the Foresters have yet to chalk up a victory over the Cardinals.

Less Than Minute To Go, Wildcats Overtake Warren

Libertyville Beats Blue Devils In Story Book Fashion, 12-7

by G. A. MC ELROY

History repeated itself Saturday at Libertyville where the Wildcats kept their season's record clean with a 12-7 victory over Warren. The Libertyville eleven scored the winning touchdown with but 45 seconds remaining in the final period. Last year Bergstrom's championship team beat Warren on the same field 10-6 with a touchdown in the last 40 seconds of play.

Saturday's contest was a typical Libertyville-Warren game. The Wildcats were overwhelming favorites and did have the best of it all afternoon but a stubborn Warren defense coupled with numerous penalties stopped the home team time after time. The result certainly is not one to make Bergstrom and his assistants very optimistic in their preparations for the invasion of Arlington Saturday.

Three Dramatic Minutes

The large turnout of fans saw a whole ball game packed in the last three minutes of play. Leading 6-0 by virtue of a third period touchdown scored by left tackle Whammond on a pass which bounced from the hands of a Warren backfield man, the Wildcats saw their chances go glimmering in the final minutes of the game. With three minutes to play full back Kennedy of Warren drove through the line and after slipping from the clutches of nearly a half dozen tacklers ran 15 yards to score. Jermackowicz, Gurnee left tackle, place kicked the extra point that to all observers meant the ball game.

Another For The Books

But perhaps some of those fighting Wildcats, reminded of last year's Warren game, were not as dismayed as their loyal followers. At any rate they kept on trying. Receiving the kickoff and returning to their own 40 yard line the Wildcats started a march to a story book finish. It started with a first down pass from Gossell to Jaeger on the Warren 45 yard line. An off side penalty moved the ball to the 40 yard mark and when Paul Brown's end sweep was smothered without gain the situation appeared hopeless. Then the most sensational play of the game occurred. Gossell drifted back and arched a long pass down to field to left end Glen Miller who made a seemingly impossible catch on the 5 yard stripe while surrounded by Warren defense men. On the next play Paul Brown, Libertyville's ace ball carrier, went over for a touchdown on a reverse play.

Libertyville's record of 15 first downs to Warren's six shows the Wildcat superiority. A number of Warren's first downs were on penalties. Paul Brown and Jaeger starred for the winners in the backfield and Whammond and Hoskins stood out in the line. Gossell pitched nine good passes in 19 attempts was a vital factor in the Libertyville offense.

Kelton's Teams Are Always Tough

Kennedy at full back and Herman at left half bore the ball carrying burden for Warren in great style. McCaughy at center was the star in Warren's forward wall. Warren put up a heroic defense against a stronger eleven and though Coach Kelton may not have many victories to remember for the 1939 season he can feel well satisfied that his team has given its best and played the game in the traditional Kelton style. Barring injuries, Kelton's team may have a lot to do with deciding who wins the conference championship in the coming games.

N. W. Coaches Meet; Discuss 6 Man Football

McElroy Is Elected Chairman, Clark Of Barrington, Secretary

The Northwest Conference coaches met at Barrington Monday night for a discussion and to make plans for the future. It was decided to hold meetings about four times annually. The next meeting will be on December 4.

Gerald McElroy of Palatine was elected chairman of the new organization with Paul Clark of Barrington, secretary. The major part of the evening was spent in a discussion of the future of football in the conference. John Kirby of Bensenville reported on six man football which is being tried at his school this fall. According to the majority opinion there seems little chance that the six man game will be taken up in the conference. Antioch and Palatine reported that there was a possibility of football being played in their schools next year. It was decided that each school was to canvas the situation and be ready to make a definite statement at the next meeting when the 1940 football plans will be made.

The organization recommended that next year's basketball schedule be played on a complete home and home basis with every school meeting every other twice. The proposition of having two officials on basketball games was taken up and a suggestion made that new men from nearby towns be added as a second man on as many games as possible. Palatine and Barrington are the only schools having two officials on every home game.

L. S. VanWinkle, who assigns officials for the conference, attended the meeting and discussed with the coaches the problems connected with the selection of basketball referees.

Coaches and schools represented at the meeting were as follows: Antioch—Childers; Barrington—Clark and Bricker; Bensenville—Johnson, Kirby, and Trapp; Elmhurst—Wesner; Grant—Werhan; Northbrook—Mackey and Watson; Palatine—McElroy; and Wauconda—Herrmann.

Northbrook Trips Barrington In Grid Debut

Second Year Team Outplays Veteran Broncho Eleven

by G. A. MC ELROY

A green but enthusiastic Northbrook football eleven outfought and outplayed Barrington's Bronchos Saturday to gain a well earned 18-0 victory in the first of a limited schedule of Northwest conference grid games. The game was played at Barrington and upset the hope for the Northbrook team coached by Mackey and Watson showed surprising strength.

The Northbrook team scored twice in the second period and a third time in the last quarter when the Bronchos were flinging passes in a desperate effort to score. Barrington put up a stubborn defense on running plays but covered poorly on passes and themselves failed to put on any sustained drives.

Pass Up Scoring Chance

With the wind at their back Barrington had a golden opportunity to score in the first period but the visitors held for downs on the 10, 12, and 15 yard lines to stop three Broncho thrusts. A 28 yard end run by Myers had put the ball deep in Northbrook territory at the start of the game.

On the second play of the second quarter Strauss of Northbrook drove off Barrington's left tackle and then cut back to run 75 yards for the first touchdown. Santucci's try for point failed. A little later Barrington took the ball on a Northbrook fumble and punted to the Northbrook 10 yard stripe but Santucci ran the kick back 45 yards to the Broncho 45 yard marker. On three plays Northbrook scored. It was accomplished on a 12 yard forward pass, a 15 yard end run by Klein, and finally a pass from Santucci to Strauss in the end zone.

Barrington fought back in the third and fourth periods making occasional good gains and completing several passes, but the nearest they got to the goal was the 22 yard line. Late in the game with their backs to their own goal due to Northbrook's pass interceptions, the Bronchos threw caution to the wind and opened up with aerials. Blue of Northbrook intercepted on the 12, but the ball was lost on downs on the Barrington 7. Then Strauss intercepted on the 20 and ran over for his third touchdown.

Jim Day at tackle and Hugo at end looked especially good in the Northbrook line but the whole forward wall tackled low and hard and took advantage of every break that came its way.

Strauss and Klein did most of the ground gaining for the winners while Myers and Long paced the Broncho offense.

1938 Co-Champions to Meet at Arlington

Last Appearance Here For Local Eleven Until November 4

The two oldest rivals in the Northeast conference, Arlington and Libertyville, clash on the Arlington field this Saturday in what may prove to be one of the outstanding games of this season's play. Last year's game on the local field resulted in a 0-0 tie and finally threw the two schools into a tie for the old Northwest conference championship.

Either a loss or a tie this Saturday may prove very costly to either aggregation. Consequently each team is expected to be at its top form in striving to keep their undefeated record of the season unbroken.

Libertyville leads the league at present being the only untied or undefeated team. They have victories over Leyden and Woodstock to their credit plus one non-conference win. Arlington, having played but two games, have a victory over Crystal Lake in addition to their tie game with Lake Forest.

Saturday's game will be the last one in Arlington colors for Jack Rosch, their giant sophomore left tackle. His family is moving to the city this week-end where Jack will enroll in Lane Tech. His loss will be keenly felt by the Cardinals, particularly for the next two seasons where he had been counted upon as a fixture in building up a big line for seasons to come.

Arlington will face the task Saturday of having to overcome a rugged Wildcat line. In addition to this they will face one of the best backs in the league in Brown, 190 pound half back, who has been tearing up opponent's lines in his three games so far. He is ably backed up by three smaller fleet footed Wildcats.

As usual, the kick-off will be at 2:30. This is the last appearance of the Cardinals on the local field until their homecoming game with Warren November 4. The next two games are away, at Leyden Friday, October 20, and at Niles Saturday, October 28.

Grant finished on the short end of a 13-7 score in a football game with St. Marys of Woodstock last Friday at Ingleside. It was the fourth straight win for the Woodstock eleven and Grant's second straight setback.

Jacques, Grant fullback, scored the touchdown on an off tackle smash and added the extra point in the same manner. Wickman and Hinner scored for the winners.

Yak Ox Sturdy Beast
The yak ox, and more particularly the hybrid ox, the mdo (the result of a cross between the yak and the Chinese cow), is a sturdy beast that will carry approximately 200 pounds, making an average stage of about 15 miles a day and keeping in fair condition if the grazing is good. He is fairly docile and easy to handle although double-jointed and shifty as a goat if minded to throw his load.

Behind Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, Oct. 9.—Business—Rate of industrial production last week neared the 1936-37 "boomlet" level. Much of this rocketing activity arises from the heavy purchase of manufactured articles by wholesalers and retailers who fear price increases. A note of warning sounded by a few business men last week therefore deserves mention. They said that unless retail sales "keep pace with the rise in industrial output," another slump like that of September, 1937, might occur. That trade upheaval was caused chiefly by the building up of inventories in 1936 and early 1937. Suddenly the plug was pulled as manufacturers and retailers found themselves over-stocked with products the public couldn't buy fast enough, and business swiftly ran down to a lower level. It's too early to pass judgment on retail sales as there usually is some time lag. They increased, though not so fast as industry's wheels, in September. From now to Christmas, however, will be the important period to watch.

Washington.—Businessmen whose plans may be affected by revision of the neutrality bill, now being debated in the Senate, may figure that Congressional action will not be completed until December, Capitol Hill observers say. Meanwhile it is reported that the Department of Commerce is seriously considering the establishment of a special division or a new government agency which would be devoted entirely to stimulation of trade with South America, a wide-open market for U. S. goods due to Europe's war embroilment. And in the Department of Agriculture, officials frankly are predicting that the problem of surpluses will be as great next year as ever, despite the war.

Scare Subsidies.—As far as American consumers—as such—were concerned, chief effect of European hostilities in this country was the precipitate rise in food prices in the week following the invasion of Poland. Now that domestic scare has subsided. In New York City, whose population consumes 10 per cent of the country's food output, the commissioner of markets reports retail prices are back to normal and that any effect of the war has almost entirely disappeared. Earlier the commissioner had publicly absolved retail grocers of any blame for the sharp price increases which pinched housewives' pocketbooks, although his department currently is investigating charges by grocers that wholesalers and jobbers were at least partially responsible for the rises.

Cattle Breeding Ass'n Launched

Dairymen Meeting At Farm Bureau Office October 19
A meeting of Holstein and Guernsey Dairymen interested in securing superior stock from their better cows has been called for the Farm Bureau office, Arlington Heights, Thursday, October 19, at 8:30 p. m.

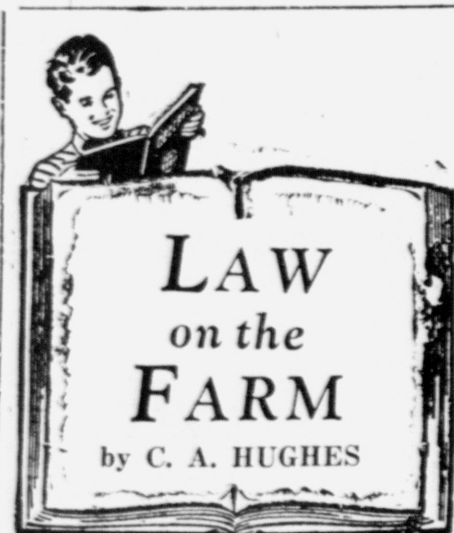

At a meeting of the directors of the Artificial Cattle Breeding Association at Woodstock last Thursday, the constitution and by-laws tentatively drafted were accepted and agreements have been placed in the counties for farmers to sign who wish to participate in the benefits that may be derived from these associations.

There will be two distinct organizations, one for Guernsey owners and another for Holstein owners. "Any farmer who wishes to raise his own calves and would like to have calves that will probably show an increase of 100 pounds of butterfat over their mother's production and also that will probably show an increase in butterfat content, will do well to investigate the possibilities offered by the Artificial Breeding Association being organized in northeastern Illinois," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

"The terms and conditions of the association are very simple. The committee has made investigation of the practicability of artificial breeding and the report of Dr. Graham of the University Animal Pathology Department is that it is entirely feasible and reliable.

"Thus it would appear that farmers who feel they are hampered from owning especially good bulls may now enter their herds in this association and have the use of the best bulls in the whole country. "The factors involved are merely this: Farmers who wish to enter one or more cows from a herd may obtain a blank at the Farm Bureau office and indicate their intentions of joining. If 1,000 cows of either breed are signed up by January 1, the agreement becomes effective. No money is paid down. One-half of the fee of $7.00 per cow becomes payable in two equal installments. The first within ten days after receiving notice that 1,000 cows have been guaranteed and the second six months thereafter.

"For farmers in Cook county who

Mad Dogs.—Annually thousands of dollars worth of livestock are destroyed and human lives endangered by rabid dogs. It is true that lives can be saved by the Pasteur treatment, but the hazard and inconvenience to persons bitten and the economic loss frequently resulting when rabid dogs bite valuable animals make the eradication of rabies an important public problem.

The first legislative recognition of rabies came in 1905 when a law was passed by the Illinois legislature providing that a county could send any poor person bitten by a rabid dog to a state institution for treatment. The county bears the cost of transportation, the institution the cost of treatment, care and housing.

In 1927 a more effective law was passed aimed at the eradication of rabies. It provides that, "Whenever a case of rabies has occurred in a locality the Department of Agriculture shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to prevent the spread of rabies among dogs and other animals. The Department of Agriculture shall have power to order that all dogs in the locality be:

1. Kept confined within an enclosure from which escape is impossible, or
2. Kept muzzled and restrained by a leash composed of chain or other indestructible material, or
3. To further order all owners or keepers of dogs to take such prophylactic measures, as the Department of Agriculture may deem necessary, to prevent the spread of want to increase the production of their herd and thereby increase their net profit per cow, probably keeping less cows but realizing more net profit, the Breeding Association, being organized offers them the best possible opportunity to achieve such a goal.

"Membership is from year to year and we feel confident that all forward looking dairymen will expect to participate in this program. I personally hope that a number of Cook county farmers will come in to the organization because adjoining counties are going to sign up a good membership and we should not pass up this advantage to other counties."

'Sore Spot' On This Illinois Farm Is Healed By Erosion-Conscious Farmers

Slow but certain "death" for any gullies which Cook county farmers have in their fields is guaranteed by methods such as have been followed on the William Bonjour farm, near Stockton, according to Farm Adviser Hughes.

Control of gullies is one of a number of soil-saving practices which Cook county farmers are adopting under the coordinated soil improvement and erosion control program they are carrying on in cooperation with Farm Adviser Hughes, the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

As shown in the accompanying illustration, the "living" gully on the Bonjour farm had a ravenous appetite for soil in 1938 as it ate back through good pasture toward a cropped field. Today it is a dead head, dying from lack of water. A diversion dike above the gully head, plus sloping and sodding of the gully itself, are responsible for the transformation. Built by Ernest Kuppersmith, operator of the farm, in cooperation with the Stockton Soil Conservation Service CCC camp, the dike is choking off the supply of water that formerly drained over the gully lip.

Run-off water, coming down from a 76-acre drainage area, is caught by the dike and fed slowly into a sod-protected area at the extreme right, leaving the gully head in the center to "heal up."

The Bonjour farm is included in the erosion control demonstration program conducted jointly by the Soil Conservation Service and the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Construction of diversion terraces and sodding of gullies is only one step in an erosion control program, the farm adviser said.

Sound soil improvement and erosion control practices must also be followed on the slopes that feed into the gully in order to hold the soil and water on the slopes. On lesser slopes soil treatment and a good rotation are all that are needed, while on the steeper slopes, contour farming, terracing, or strip cropping may be needed.

Of the 5,000 farmers who attended schools held last year in 94 Illinois counties for leaders in the soil improvement and erosion control project, about 900 had started gully control work on their farms in 1938. One thousand of these farmers indicated they planned to do gully control work in 1939. In addition, 2,200 planned to lime and grow soil-building legumes; 254 were to plant trees for erosion control; 908 were to shift eroding crop lands to pastures; and 1,400 farmers are making complete erosion control farm plans.

RAVING.
The Department of Agriculture shall have power to determine the area of the locality and the duration of the period of time to which the above requirements shall apply.

It is further provided that the expense involved in any action taken by the State Department of Agriculture shall be borne by the owner or keeper of the dog. Officers failing to carry out the provisions of this act are subject to penalty.

A question often arises as to the liability of the owner of a rabid dog. In 1931 a law was enacted which provides that, "... No owner or keeper of any dog shall be liable for any damage caused by such dog having rabies or other similar disease unknown to such owner or keeper of such dog." This means that unless the owner or keeper of a dog is aware of its rabid condition, he may be liable only for direct acts of destruction or damage and not for any damage resulting from the spread of the disease by the dog. However, upon adequate proof being submitted, the owner of animals destroyed because of the rabid condition of a dog may be indemnified from the county dog license fund as in other cases.

These laws may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 23, Section 300-303; and Chapter 8, Sections 12a, 19, 23a-23d.

Farmers Poll Approves Randolph Market Changes

Change in Hours and Truck Parking is Biggest Controversy

by C. A. HUGHES

In order to get some kind of change in the Randolph Street Market, which for years has been dominated by a market-master whose chief objective was to get all the money he could out of those who were marketing on the street and allowing "scalpers" and outside trucks to overrun the market, the farm organizations marketing committees asked that the present ordinance in Chicago be enforced.

Working in conjunction with the Market Service Association, the changes that have taken place on the market in recent weeks has been the result of enforcing the present ordinance.

Some have felt that they have been imposed upon but it is pointed out by leading farmers that in making such changes there are always inequalities to be smoothed out. The object has been to find what is wrong with the present ordinance and then seek changes for that ordinance.

In order to find farmers' opinions of the enforcement of the present ordinance the State University Marketing Extension Service addressed a card to all farmers in the immediate vegetable growing area of Chicago asking them to answer the following questions to which we give the summary replies of 171 who had used the market since July 1, 1939 out of 223 replies received.

1. "Do you think recent changes in the market if continued will result in improvements (answer 'yes' or 'no') in:
a. Eliminating the evening market? Ans: yes—95; no—70.
b. Getting "scalpers" off the market? Ans: yes—150; no—18.
c. Getting trucks out of this market? Ans: Yes—169; No—4.
d. By not opening the market until 4 a. m.? Ans: Yes—40; No—102.

2. What other market hours would be more acceptable? 44% wanted an evening market. An earlier opening for the morning market was indicated: Seventeen wanted midnight opening; five 1 o'clock; thirty-seven, 2 o'clock; twelve 3 o'clock; twelve, 4 o'clock; and three, 5 o'clock.

Regarding closing, 69 indicated noon; 15, 10 o'clock, and other various times.

Six replies indicated a preference for two marketing periods, one in the evening, and the other in the morning. We suspect that with an earlier opening hour in the morning the desire for an evening market might be less.

The answer to some of these questions were rather peculiar. For instance the answer to the question with reference to eliminating the evening market showed a variation in the time that the replies were received. A large number of replies were mailed in Chicago and were voted for the evening market. It is our impression that these replies would be mailed at home and not in the city of Chicago. Eliminating the replies received the first three days we find the balance of the replies were—50 yes and 20 no. Because of these peculiarities we were inclined to think that this latter figure a little more nearly represents the actual thinking of farmers.

It is thought that on the basis of this survey that means should be taken to determine the hours for the market and other changes that might be made in 1940.

Getting trucks parked in the street has been one of the most difficult problems on the market. Numerous plans have been tried in order to meet the difficulties that have presented themselves from time to time. It is thought that if an earlier market were provided that this would not be quite so much of a problem. We will have to say that the market master has not received 100% cooperation in parking these trucks.

Mr. Nielsen states that the large majority of farmers are willing to go along with the rules of the market, but a few have caused most of the difficulty. We urge our farmers for the balance of the season to be cooperative in this respect, because we must keep this one thing in mind—incidents such as have developed a couple of weeks ago in which a mob partially assembled itself to do violence to the city officials is just such a thing that would give the city of Chicago an excuse for closing up the market.

It is difficult to know just what farmers do want. We believe at the present time that the city is doing everything that it possibly can to straighten this market out. It is hoped by another season that a solution to this rather difficult problem will have been worked out by those who are interested in making Randolph Street a better market for the growers of Cook county.

With reference to the evening market information has come out from the city that the evening market is definitely out and that the city intends to use Randolph Street in the evening and keep it open. Therefore, it would appear that plans for an evening market might as well be dropped. However, we do believe that two things can be improved on the market and one is establishing an opening hour that will come nearer suiting everyone and the other is getting a parking system that will more nearly meet the requirements of all coming to the market.
